

Have You Completed California's Newly Required Management Training?

Sexual Harassment Prevention Workshop for Supervisors and Managers

Kim Silvers, SPHR
President, Silvers HR Management

HR management consultant and award-winning speaker, Kim Silvers, has worked with California employers for over 20 years as a trusted advisor to her clients. Silvers guides them with compass-like precision through the maze of California HR rules and regulations. An acknowledged authority on California's unique employment environment, Kim owns a successful firm, Silvers HR Management, and teaches business management at St. Mary's College, Sacramento Campus.

Are you up to speed on California's new sexual harassment prevention training law? The new law (AB 1825) requires all current supervisors and managers to attend at least 2 hours of interactive training on sexual harassment prevention for organizations with 50 or more employees and contractors.

Take advantage of this informative workshop, already proven to be successful in bringing management teams up to speed on their responsibilities and reducing their financial liabilities.

This workshop will allow your management team to:

- Minimize the company's and individual's financial liabilities
- Recognize potentially harassing situations
- Deal effectively with inappropriate behavior on and off the job
- Understand the nuances of well-intended workplace comments that can backfire
- Fulfill the California requirements for harassment prevention training
- Have fun while learning

The program includes:

- Frank and open discussion of real world scenarios
- Practical application of complicated legal standards
- Fun and interactive analyses and activities
- On site training held at the convenience of your business team
- A review of your company's unlawful harassment policy
- A certificate of completion

"Kim has the quick mind and timing to make her presentations entertaining and informative. I cannot remember when I had as much fun being educated."

— Don Johnson
Vice President, Operations, New Star Lasers, Inc.
