Are your employees taking off more time than you are? Are you aware there are over a dozen protected leaves of absence that apply to California’s small employers? Most recently, new leave protections have been established for your employees to bond with their new child. And what do you do when an employee tells you she is pregnant? We will discuss the new Parental Baby Bonding Leave, along with Pregnancy Disability Leave and other California leaves that apply to small employers. We’ll cover the “need to know” aspects to minimize employers’ risks.

The Leaves of Absence for Small Employers webinar is recommended for business owners, supervisors and managers in companies with fewer than 50 employees*
